No. 363

County Commissioner

This is Her Majesty the Queen's Silver Jubilee Year. Over the past few weeks, members of the County Team and myself have been speaking at District Annual General Meetings about the need, in this year especially, to consider the implications of those words in our Scout Promise, "Duty to the Queen".

"I suppose that every boy wants to do his duty to his country," wrote our Founder, B.P. in 1907. Patriotism ranked high in those days, the Union flag flew bravely over the Empire and Britain really did rule the waves.

Times have changed. There has been the devastation of two World Wars. Empires have come and gone. International frontiers have shrunk with modern communications and supersonic travel. Countries are beginning to think internationally. Only last month, following their summit meeting,

Leaders of seven great countries acknowledged that many of the problems facing countries throughout the world were common to all and countries should unite in a common resolve to solve them.

Our whole outlook on life these days extends far beyond the shores of these islands. Scouting with over 14 million members, and the Guides with as many again, is truly international - a world-wide brotherhood. B.P.'s vision of Scouting and Guiding as an international force for peace could well be realised within this century.

Nevertheless, one's own country still comes first. We must have a stable and healthy economy at home before we can help others overseas. B.P.'s words are still valid today and observance of the Promise to do one's duty to the Queen is definitely helping one's own country.

The Scouting concept of Duty to the Queen can be realised in practical terms by helping youngsters, through the game of Scouting, to become good citizens. That is our aim and the progressive training scheme designed to achieve this end. Progressive is the key word. Each section in a Group is not a watertight compartment, cut off from the next. Consequently there needs to be very close liaison indeed between the different sections to ensure that the training which youngsters get in one are really of use to them for the next. Group Scout Leaders have a vital job to do here by ensuring that such co-operation between leaders of the different sections in a Group is a reality.

The outcome should be that all young persons joining the Scout Movement should set their sights from the outset on becoming Queen's Scouts. That is the goal to which our whole scheme of progressive training leads. It should be the concern of every Leader in the County to remind our younger members of this fact.

The holder of the Queen's Scout Award should be the product of all that is best in Scouting. The Queen's Scout Certificate, signed by Her Majesty, reads :-

"As a Queen's Scout you have prepared yourself for service to God and your fellow men, and have shown yourself a worthy member of the great Scout Brotherhood. I wish you God speed on your journey through life; may it prove for you a joyous adventure."

I hope that every Venture Scout unit throughout the country will strive to produce at least one Queen's Scout in this Silver Jubilee Year. A few weeks ago it was my privilege to present Queen's Scout badges to Gary Mott, Andrew Mann and Clive Bromley all of 1st Hersham Scout Group. We are off to a flying start! Keep it up.

County Chaplain

From: Michael Meech.

Last month our County Commissioner wrote in "Surrey Scout" about the badges available in Scouting, and particularly mentioned the Entertainers Badges which Cubs can earn.

This set me thinking! As far as I know, we've never had a Badge which showed that one of us had some qualification to do part-time what the Chaplain does full-time. Maybe nobody would be interested in tackling such a badge, or perhaps wearing it would be interpreted as the sign of a "holy Joe". Point taken!

But isn't there still something in the idea? As the basis of a Scouters' Own, a Camp Fire discussion, or a P.L.C. might it not be an idea to try to put together what it is we have to say about our faith to other people?

Leaders will need to restrict themselves to asking questions, so that the boys will be learning by their own exploration of Christian ideas rather than being told all the time. They'll want to say something about God (words like Father, loving, eternal might come up), about Man (and they'll probably talk about sin, death, sex, and so forth), and the World (when they'll talk about race, earthquakes, war, justice and the like).

It's not a bad way to teach. And, who knows, it may be good for the theology of the Leaders, not to mention the Chaplains!

Club News

The Annual General Meeting of the Surrey Scout and Guide Mountaineering Club was held at Holmwood on 19th April. David Barrell, A.C.C. (Leader Training) was the Guest Speaker, while the County Commissioner and A.C.C. (Venture Scouts) for Surrey were also present.

Despite low numbers, especially amongst the Guide representatives, members of the Club are very active. The following is an extract from the Club's 1977/78 programme:-

June 21:	Evening Walk, Plough Coldharbour
June 24-26:	Swannage
July 19:	Climbing evening Stone Farm
July 22-24:	(to be announced)
Aug. 16:	Evening walk, Sportsman Mogador
Aug. 26-29:	Cader Idris/Scotland
Sept. 20:	Holiday Slides
Sept. 23-25:	North Wales
Oct. 18:	Guest Speaker

Oct. 28-30:	Borrowdale Lakes
Nov. 15:	Guest Speaker
Nov. 25-27:	Rydal Hall Lakes
Dec. 20:	Social Evening
Dec./Jan.
30-1:	Elan Valley, Mid Wales
Jan. 17:	Film Evening
Jan. 28-29:	Cader Idris
Feb. 21:	Guest Speaker
Feb. 25-26:	Peak District
Mar. 21:	Barn Dance
Mar. 25-26:	Annual Dinner, N. Wales

Enquiries regarding membership of the Club or any of its activities should be addressed to the Club Secretary, Ian Shuttler of 19, Priory Close, Beckenham, Kent. Telephone 01-650 5037. The Chairman of the Club is Norman James of 6, Byron Gardens, Sutton, Surrey. Telephone 01-643 0521.

Pieces and Bits

The Big Non-Event

From a Group's News Sheet.

"Dates for Diary - April 8. No Meeting".

Century Up!

Congratulations to Richard Denyer and his team upon issue No. 100 of the Epsom and Ewell Scout News, a publication of consistently high standard. A publication, one must add, obviously read most carefully in high places as those who read the May edition of "Scouting" will undoubtedly realise!

Interesting

Did you know that £100 invested in a Bank Deposit Account on 1st April 1976 would have produced £8.88 by 1st April 1977? And that same £100 invested in Headquarters Short Term Investment Service would have produced £10.59 in the same period in addition to £1 for Headquarters? More details from Scout Association, Lancing.

Fund Raising

Jumble, wastepaper and now - aluminium saucepans. A collection of these can be quite valuable to a metal merchant. Worth thinking about.

Invitations

When you hold a District affair, of course the District Chairman, Treasurer and Secretary are invited along. But have you thought about the District next door? An invite to the D.C., Chairman, etc. would be well received and could pay dividends.

1977 Census

From: Doug. Bennett.

The County total of 17,737 is the highest ever recorded and represents an increase of more than 1½% during the year. Surrey Heath District showed the greatest increase with an extra 181, being nearly 20% more than last year. Horley District showed the largest reduction - about 8%.

After last year's slight reduction, it is good to see a large increase in the number of Venture Scouts. The drop in the number of Scouters is counter-balanced by the increase in Instructors. It is thought that the increase in the number of District Staff is due to members of Service Teams and B.-P. Guild who have not yet joined the Scout Fellowship. 13 Districts reported the existence of separate District Fellowships.

1st Cranleigh of Guildford District is still the County's largest Group, with 245 members followed by 1st Fetcham of Leatherhead and 5th Farnham (Bourne) of Farnham District each with 181. 49 Groups now have a membership of 100 or more.

There are apparently 160 Group/Venture Unit Headquarters in the County indicating that more than 1 in 2 Groups have 'their own place' but only 67 Groups have their own vehicles of which just one is less than 2 years old!

Already there are 48 female Venture Scouts from 6 different Units and it will be interesting to see those numbers increasing during this year.

District Returns should have been received by 14th April but only 6 out of 20 Districts managed it. Well done Banstead, East Surrey, Esher, Horley, Staines and Surrey Heath. Staines District must be especially mentioned as being first in with the District Return for two years running. All but two Returns were in within 7 days of the 14th, and of those 2, Guildford's would have been if a Group Return had not gone astray. This year's booby prize goes to Walton & Weybridge who took until 16th May to sort out its 10 Groups, and as last year, seriously held up completion of the County figures.

We again sincerely thank District Secretaries and all those who helped to obtain the necessary figures as well as the Scouters who did the counting. Details of any aspect of the Census are available from Doug. Bennett.

Water Activities

From: John Forbat

Canoe Centre at Send

The Centre is now open for the season, with eight canoes in good condition following repair work during the winter months. New life jackets and paddles should also be available by the time this issue appears. Now is the time to make bookings for Saturday afternoons, Sundays and weekday evenings. Contact Andy Cole on Woking 72583, also for further information including the Rules for operation of the Centre. Charges are reasonable and even less if you bring your own canoe (which must have a Boat Certificate).

County Regatta.

Details and entry forms for this event on 10th July are now available. I would like to see more Groups entering, particularly if they have not entered before. In addition to all Sea Scout Groups, any Troops or Venture Units who engage in canoeing or other Water Activities should put their lads in for some exciting races and lots of fun.

Summer Camps.

Are you camping by the coast or near a river? Water activities add another dimension to a summer camp and even if you do not have any craft of your own, it is frequently possible to obtain help in the form of boats, canoes and instruction from local Groups. I suggest that you make contact with the WATER Activities Committee or the A.C.C. responsible in the County concerned for advice and help, in good time. Remember that the waters in the area may require Charge Certificates and to obtain one for canoeing in B.1. waters for example, requires training which only need take a half day. However arrangements have to be made in plenty of time.

B.C.U. Certificate training.

The sessions on alternate Sunday mornings started in May, but I am disappointed to find that fewer leaders and scouts are coming forward than could be accommodated. B.C.U. Elementary and Proficiency training and assessment are available (at Leander H.Q. Kingston). These could enable Charge Certificates to be obtained for waters up to B.2. This will suffice for most summer camp requirements, remembering that for coastal canoeing, tidal endorsements will be necessary. A summer camp by the sea may provide the ideal opportunity of obtaining the experience and the assessment for a tidal endorsement or for the Sea Proficiency Certificate.

Green Surrey Day

From: Sheila Sandford

Unbe-known to the 3,000 visitors, men became pieces of chopped up macaroni, women white beans and children dried peas! Thus, 1st Dorking Cub Scouts counted the number of visitors to "Green Surrey Day" by the hour and provided the Surrey Trust for Nature Conservation with useful information.

During the day at Dorking Halls, various Packs manned the well made and attractive Cub Scout Stand (our thanks to Tony Smith who made it and to Goff Powell and leaders from Horley who erected it) to show that young boys can make a positive contribution to Conservation. It was obvious that much project work had been done before the day by the various Cub Scouts, so that the exhibits and activities were of a high standard.

4th Walton concentrated on seeds and trees and have been told that if the seedling trees are cared for until they are 18" high, they can be planted in Nower

Wood with a suitably worded plaque. 6th Dorking had been fired by one Cub Scout's enthusiasm for badgers and produced a fascinating display. 6th Horley demonstrated the making of nesting boxes as well as how to feed (feathered) birds. A model of Earlswood Lake showing an interesting study of wild life was made by 4th Horley and Shere & Peaslake's study on the lives of ants was most interesting. 1st Ashted ended the afternoon with a project of practical conservation which was especially appropriate as this Pack has helped the Trust with conservation work before.

Several other organisations were represented and exhibits of bees, young lambs and day-old chicks as well as wild plants and the tell-tale marks of Dutch Elm disease were instructive and interesting. Methods of conservation, before and after photographs, and general information on the countryside were most appropriate to Cub Scouts and Scouts generally and it would have been rewarding if more Packs and Troops had arranged a visit.

25 Years Ago

From: "Surrey 'S' Sheet", June 1952.

Bentley Copse. A Great Day

On Saturday, May 10th - and a gloriously fine day too - our President, General Sir Robert Haining, K.C.B., D.S.O., H.M.L., opened the new Training Headquarters at Bentley Copse, in the presence of a very representative assembly of members of the Surrey Scout Council . . .

Scout Notes.

Geoff Birch A.C.C. (Scouts) wrote:

"Breaking a silence of some months, at least as far as this News Sheet is concerned, I must first offer an apology to all who have looked for some notes under this heading. I plead extreme pressure of business which perhaps needs no explanation to some of you".

Editor's Note - Yes Geoff, we still have the same problem but more so. See under "Cub Scouts", "Scouts", "Venture Scouts", "Fellowship", "International" and "Leader Training" in this issue!

Senior Scout Notes

The Windsor Parade

When three quarters of the parade had passed the saluting base, the Duke of Edinburgh turned to Mr. Hurl and said "You know, the marching is extraordinarily good." "Yes, Sir," replied Mr. Hurl, "particularly when you remember that many of these chaps met each other for the first time an hour ago. "Well, frankly," replied the Duke of Edinburgh, "if the marching had been any better I should have suspected that you had given up good Scout training for the sake of putting on a show this afternoon."

Surrey Census

(remember figures include what is now G.L.S.W.)

Total 23,735, 412 Groups. Not only were ages given but the number of badges (First and Second Class) and Cub Stars gained during the year as well as other information. And in spite of the size and complexity, Surrey was fourth to send full results to I.H.Q.!
